CHERRY PECTORAL

For the Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

This remedy is offered to the community with the confidence we feel in an article which from its intrinsic merits is daily effecting cures of the most distressing character, and which, from its power over every other kind of disease, is destined to displace from use all other expectorants. When once tried it will stand in the first rank among our best remedies, and will be found to possess virtues unknown to any other medicine. Many of the most distressing affections of the throat, lungs, and breast, which were incident to our climate, and which, if neglected, often fasten upon the lungs, but for the mildly curative properties of this CHERRY PECTORAL, would be incurable. In the whole catalogue of medicines, there is not one which can be relied on with the same confidence, to cure the various affections of the throat and lungs. Even in cases of confirmed Consumption, where all other remedies fail, the CHERRY PECTORAL will give relief, and in many cases, where the disease was thought incurable, it has restored the patient to perfect health. Public speakers, Singers, and those who have taken cold, will find it a sovereign remedy.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE,

WASHINGTON.

No. 22 State Street, . . Boston.

IN 1840 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents Agent of the U S Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Sec of Act of 37

Having relinquished the Agency for the transmission of Models and adopted a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office, where by a Patent may be procured about six weeks earlier he continues to forward them free of expense—to prepare Caveats, Specifications Assignments, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents, and to render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of verbally explaining their inventions and of consulting in respect to them, matters, in general, of paramount importance in order to obtain correct specifications and claims The experience of sixteen years practice, an extensive collection of rare works decisions &c on mechanical subjects, the Patent Laws, and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford to inventors desirous of procuring Patents, assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment

H B EDDY, Solicitor of Patents

WASHINGTON, JULY 1st, 1849.—During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, H B EDDY Esq, of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. Cure follows Cure!

READ THE EVIDENCE!!

The above invaluable Medicine has now been before the public successfully long to have its virtues thoroughly tested It has been used by all classes of the community, under every possible variety of circumstances, and has every where proved itself its most powerful and effectual Cough Medicine Cured Diseases of all kinds yielded to its influence as rebels pass away upon the rising of the Sun This is no fiction We have now before us letters from persons who are now living in the State of New York and who declare, over the crown and seal of all that we could desire to say in its favor Those who can read their testimonials yet remain infected How much is beyond the reach of human testimony

A LOVELY YOUNG LADY

Cured of Consumption!

The following is from the pen of WM H LEVISON, Esq, the distinguished Editor of the DUTCHESS COUNTY Journal and Political Gazette of New York, Jan 26 1850 What could be more conclusive?

It is seldom we permit ourselves to occupy a space in these columns as to speak in praise of any article the patent medicine may be; but when we see the life of a fellow creature saved by the use of any medicine whatever, we consider it as our right if not a duty, to give a simple relation of facts that others may, if like myself benefitted. The case which induced us to write this article, was that of a young lady of our acquaintance who by frequent exposure to the night air contracted a cold, which settled on the Lungs before its ravages could be stayed; (This occurred two years ago last winter) Various remedies were resorted, but with very little effect as before. The young woman grew worse, her cough became more and more deep, and hollow as day by day, sadly that PULMONARY DISEASE was doing its worst on her delicate frame The family physician was consulted, and although he would not admit to the young lady that she really had the CONSUMPTION yet he would give no encouragement as to a cure While in this critical state her mother was persuaded to make use of a bottle of Dr Roger's Celebrated Syrup of LIVERWORT TAR and CANCHALAGUA, and which was kept constantly by her bedside. It is useless to comment on such a case, as for this simple truth will vouch which we publish below as well as I. If any doubt the authenticity of this statement let them call at this office—U S Military and Naval Argus Office, No 70 Chatham st, N Y

Time will Show.

BY J. T. FIELDS.

All time will show—yes, time will show
If he whom we trust be true,
And the good we know
Be rescued from fate's power
Those who to-day look cold and heartless
Because we may know?
To-morrow will have—time will show.

You tell me they are happy hours
We have together here,
Your presence my solace—would I might go
And be forever near
But should I wish this turned
These eyes look to know
What you have learned—time will show.

While our hopes linger with thee,
I know I shall always be with thine,
Whatever chance or fate we see,

No change can be known

I shall love you—time will show

HE York Blade discovereth the right song to take its tune from Would that all newspapers and all mankind at your advice had the ability and courage and the duty to tell people their interests and duty, as do you in the following

Why we pay that people so much? Go with me into any dwelling in the land. The windows have all curtains, inside our parlors and the table curtains, the carpenter has almost every crevice, that no one would suppose any to be omitted The bed has its canopy curtain drawn over it, the furnace is brought to the chamber, and the fireboard is tightly fitted so that no ventilation is permitted But the invalid complains that they cannot sleep They retire late, to make an opiate, and early in the morning and sprightly nature rebels against such restriction and the frame becomes more enfeebled, the delicious stomach or stomachs, and perhaps all are combined) prostrate or more ill. A physician can be sent for, he gives drugs leaves orders how often ten drops shall be taken, and when the blister must be dressed, and how many leeches had better be applied He speaks of his patient as of feeble constitution who is debilitated and needs change to recruit him or her—No inquiries are made as to what produced the disease, no question is given that willful transgressions of known laws has brought it on no reflection is made about over-heated rooms, and late hours and the patient lies in bed believing that sickness is brought upon by the hand of Providence, and we have only to submit to this ill-wise decree.

How preposterous thus to reason! How wicked to throw the disease up on our Maker! No my friend, you brought it upon yourself. Do you remember those evening parties, when you exchanged the long sleeves for bare arms, the closed neck for a bare one the worsted hose for the delicate silk, the Indiarubber boot for the satin slipper. Do you remember the heartsickness and anguish with it followed and your person even still keeping up this experiment? You gave particular orders that your clothes should be hunted it is true, on your return, but had you given orders that it should be ventilated, even by night if it would have turned to better account as far as your health was concerned. Ah, air is heaven's gift to sustain us. Why are you so terrified to inhale it? Who sleeps so soundly as the robin, and who rises so early to carol his morning hymn of gratitude? Are you more feeble than the little unfledged birds? Look at the most helpless of creatures See how they grow and thrive by obeying natural laws! This is all we need to be one healthy be age, viz obedience to natural laws! Go out in the open air, walk with energetic movements, do not pamp yourself up so much as to render it unconformable to go for it let the elasticity of your steps supply the variations of you clothing

How often we sigh over the fate of children in foreign countries, who are as overtasked that the breath of heaven is denied us! Who ever watches a tear over the friend who lives in luxury, and voluntarily shuts herself from the pure air? Who tells her she is daily committing suicide? No, the sallow, lily fac seems actually preferred to the healthful rosy hue of health A lady, whose waist was about the size of a wheel pin (such as our grandmothers used,) recently fractured one of the first models, so to speak form, and outward signs of health "Why," said the wasp-waisted lady, "I might have burst her for an Irish girl, she looked so healthy!" In there not a false idea, that a pale complexion and a small waist are considered recommendatory to the gentlemen?

Of patients no man ever wanted a sickly wife. No husband ever deserted an apothecary's shop for his benefit, nor yet craved the pleasure of listening to a woman's complaints

How many purses (poorly filled) have been taxed with physicians's bills apothecaries prescriptions, and long journeys with the view of restoring decayed health!

Up my friend, raise the window, give a free current to the bed chamber, inhale a goodly portion to the lungs, throw away the bed curtains and the pill-boxes, and the quantity powder, take fresh air and exercise and you will own you have consulted with the best of physicians, for he will make you cheerful as you become vigorous and the blessing can be compared to a healthy cheerful companion

CALCNA.—Webster defines this word as follows

"A word used in America to denote a meeting of citizens to agree upon candidates to be proposed for election to offices or to concert measures for supporting a party The origin of the word is not ascertained."

A correspondent of the Springfield Post, says the word originated in that city in the following manner Samuel Adam's father and about twenty other Ship Builders, used to hold a Caucus, meeting regularly before every election and concert to form their plans as to candidates for offices Hence arose the word caucus

WHAT THE SCOTCH LADY WANTED.—The Evening Gazette is responsible for the following "A Scotch lady entered a store in this city and enquired for a table cloth of a dambroad pattern. "We have, some pretty broad," was the reply of the astonished—salesman, "but none quite so broad as that" The lady explained that dambroad was the Scotch term for chequered pattern."

SATURDAY, AUGUST 2, 1851.

☞ The improvements which are making in our city, the real estate which has been taken up the present season for building purposes, the activity and healthiness of the lumbering business, the good stage of water in the river and streams and the desirable purchases which our citizens have made of valuable timber lands, and the incoming of capital here in various ways, afford very great encouragement and satisfaction to those who are interested in the welfare and growth of Bangor.

In the advances which the business of the city has recently made there is no noise or unwonted excitement, and yet the foundation has been laid for rolling up of many handsome fortunes, not dependent upon credit, not partaking of airy speculations, but certain and within the control of the parties, and under a regular and systematic business. For several years past our business men have been strengthening themselves, and are now in a better position to command success within their own resources than ever before.

The wild and reckless day of youthful and long-winded and ruinous credits passing away, and men see the advantages of promptness in their business transactions and possess the ability to practice promptness, and in all the small transactions to pay as they go. There is a world of advantage growing out of this which the more men understand the more they will cherish. It enables the man of small capital to keep his business active and prosperous.

The mechanics of the city have generally become able to stock their shops and to own the houses they dwell in and with these advantages are extending and improving their business, and competing successfully with mechanics of older places.

These matters give a health and strength to business which is rapidly placing our city in a position to undertake new enterprises and carry them successfully forward.

It is a favorable time for the men of industry and of skill to engage here in any manufacturing enterprises suited to the wants of the people here, and to which this region is adapted. All such enterprises will be sure to meet with encouragement and aid, and will prove successful by entering into the general business.

The agricultural interest of this portion of Maine already commands much substantial wealth and is gradually increasing in energy and extent. The improvements in the immediate vicinity of the city are quite marked, and in a few years the suburbs of Bangor will afford a view of highly productive fields and orchards and extensive nurseries.

We look forward with great confidence to the not distant period when the Dam at Treat's Falls will be built and the immense water power there turned to advantage in promoting the increase of manufacturing here and concentrating the labor of a large number of persons. Indeed when we consider the ability of our people to enlarge their business we cannot but arrive at the conclusion that this enterprise would be rendered certain even by the conditional sale of water privileges and the sale of lots in the vicinity, the purchasers all being willing to risk something for the purpose of securing the erection of the Dam and the hope of gain in case of its success. Indeed, we have great confidence that upon a full, complete and practical survey and estimates of the cost and advantages of the Dam, that capitalists will not be slow in embarking in the undertaking and that the enterprise will be carried forward.—We trust that such a survey will be speedily made and that the whole subject will be laid before the public, and will engage the earnest attention of all our people and meet with their hearty approval. The erection of this Dam will be a great thing for Bangor. It will cause a concentration here of a large manufacturing interest, which will be constantly increasing in variety and importance. It will add very greatly to the population of the city. It will afford constant labor to many hands. It will increase the demand for real estate and enhance its value. It will add greatly to the taxable property of the city and lessen the burthen of supporting the municipality. It will give a generous activity and encouragement to trade, and aid, directly and indirectly all the interests of the city.

☞ The Belfast Journal is congratulating itself on account of the favor with which the suggestion of the name of Judge Woodbury has been received as the New England candidate of the loco party for President of the United States. All very fine indeed, but Judge Woodbury stands a much greater chance of being struck by lightning than of being nominated for the Presidency by the Loco National Convention. That party is rapidly shaping itself for a Southern candidate, and they will have such or have none, unless, perchance, they take the high bidder of Pennsylvania for the purpose of obtaining the vote of that State.—Gen. Houston's chances are worth forty of Judge Woodbury's.

☞ Wm. Brooks was brought before the Police Court on Thursday, by Deputy Sheriff Simon F. Walker, charged with robbing the dwelling house of Mr. T. W. Edgerly of jewelry, &c. He was ordered to find bail in the sum of $300, and was committed. Brooks was discovered in the house rumaging the drawers, from which he had collected quite a lot of jewelry, but upon being confronted fled with only a small portion of his intended booty. The indefatigable Walker hunted him up and made him acquainted with Judge Pratt.

☞ The author of the communication on the subject of the education of youth in the home circle instead of the public schools, very justly deprecates the idea of some, that the influences of the public schools are dangerous, but there are certain statements made, of the truth of which we are uncertain. No name accompanies the article and we cannot be expected to publish statements involving matters of fact without a knowledge of the facts or any authority for the statements beyond an anonymous communication.

Horticultural Visits.

The committees and others of the Horticultural Society were invited a few days since to visit the garden of Col Cyrus Goss. It was an interesting and agreeable meeting and afforded many suggestions of value to those who were present. Col. Goss has a fine ornamental and fruit garden and a fine specimen of a family kitchen garden. This is one of the oldest gardens in the city and it contains a fine selection of flowers and fruits. The gooseberry here has always escaped the rust and grows in great perfection with abundant fruitfulness. We noticed here that the white strawberry is cultivated as a border and we have never seen this fruit in greater perfection. We think it was the opinion of visitors present that the borders were elegant and the fruit was equal in quality and quantity with any varieties of the strawberry now cultivated. After an examination of the garden the evening was spent very pleasantly in partaking of a repast of fruit and testing its quality after its preparation by the hand of woman's art.

This visit to the garden, and an examination of the trees and shrubs and vines and to the various tests of the quality of the different summer fruits then in perfection, formed a new and highly interesting feature in the proceedings of the Horticultural Society. It was the giving a personal exhibition of the whole garden to the committees and members.

On Thursday evening a similar visit was made by invitation to the extensive fruit garden of Alderman Albert Emerson, on Summer Street. Here is a large collection of fruit trees and the plum crop appeared particularly promising. The annoyance of the curculio has been less here than in most gardens the present season, and should it continue to be exempt through the season there will be a rich display of plums of the choicest varieties. Alderman Emerson has been particularly fortunate in the selection of pear trees and has two trees fruited that were imported from France last winter by James Dunning, Esq. He has several other choice pear trees handsomely fruited. His show of gooseberries, currants and raspberries was very fine, and their qualities gave great satisfaction to the company when assembled at his hospitable table.

Mr Emerson takes great pleasure in the practice of gardening and in the preparation of fruit trees, and his grounds are well filled up with the evidences of his skill, in the form of hundreds of thrifty trees of his own raising.

We think that these visits to the large model gardens in the city, by the members of the Horticultural Society will do good, will be the means of keeping up a lively interest in the subject of gardening and will suggest many improvements, since it is quite impossible for a man to visit the garden of another without obtaining some suggestion of practical value.

☞ We visited a day or two since the Engine House of Volunteer Company No 4, and found the establishment in fine order. The engine has been repaired, improved and beautifully painted under the skillful direction of Mr B. N. Thoms, one of the Foremen of the Company and very much to his credit, in mechanical skill and good taste. The house is large and convenient, with an ample basement, a reservoir, sink, pump, and every convenience for keeping the apparatus in perfect order. The entries to the Hall are furnished with elegant hanging lamps and the Hall itself, very handsomely finished and furnished with an eight day clock, a rich eight burner gilt and stained glass chandelier, a large mirror and mahogany ottomans in the best style of the Messrs E. & A. Dole. The massive ornamental window has a large tapestry curtain of silk and worsted.

Every attention seems to have been paid to the comfort of the members of this company and indeed there is an air of luxury, bordering upon extravagance pervading their apartments in singular and beautiful contrast with their hard labor when subduing fires. Well it is appropriate that those who sweat and toil and endure perils for the public good and the protection of human life in the hours of danger, should repose in the season of victory and rest on beds of roses and be fanned with the sweet breath of popular applause as public benefactors.

We trust that the company who have revived Engine number Four, so long an efficient machine and which has won so many victories and cost so little, will voluntarily labor to maintain its reputation and cause it to do good service whenever its services are demanded.

☞ The Boston Traveller says We have private advices from California of a pretty reliable character, which assure us that the prospective gold product of that State has been underrated. The writer says 'Business is dull, goods are cheap, money scarce and business men generally pressed. But California will come out right—our gold product will be more abundant than ever. I speak from actual knowledge. We shall get more gold than at any time heretofore. We may safely estimate the product of this year at $76 000 000 and that no diminution will take place in the supply for some years to come.'

☞ It is stated that arrangements will soon be made for the commencement of laying the foundation of the 'Custom' House in this city in the bed of the Kenduskeag stream. The season is so far advanced and the removal of the present Market House foundation will require so much time, it is doubtful whether much progress will be made in the foundation before the opening of the spring. The Custom House is, we understand to occupy the centre of the stream between the two bridges.

☞ Mr. Henry Snow of Hampden son of the late Freeman Snow, who recently returned as far as Boston from California and was there detained on account of sickness contracted at the Isthmus, was supposed to be getting well and on Monday last walked out, but on Tuesday he laid down to rest and repose and slept in the embrace of death. His remains were buried at Hampden on Wednesday. He was twenty-three years of age.

☞ Some parts of the coast of Maine are swarming with Mackerel just now. Seven hundred barrels were caught at one haul last week at Boothbay with a seine.

☞ Mr Joseph W Boynton, who recently returned from California, where he had been for two years past and where his health had improved, died in this city yesterday of a fever contracted on the Isthmus on his return home. Mr B leaves a wife and one son, now a member of the Boys High School. He was a worthy, intelligent, honest and industrious man and a good citizen.

☞ There is no State election in Maine this year and the political sea all over the country is calm now, but in a few months there will be sufficient excitement for all in the political arena. The presidential election next year will be warmly contested, and the principles and measures which distinguish the different parties will be fully and freely discussed.

☞ A man was discovered lying across the track of the Hudson River Railroad, on Thursday, the 24th ult. by the engineer of a gravel train, and dragged off. He appeared to be perfectly sensible. On the return of the train he was again found in the same position and again dragged off. He made two similar attempts with the passenger trains, and was at length conveyed to Oakhill and taken care of.

Advance of Great Britain in Population. The population of England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland taken, together, has increased during the past ten years only 103 000. It will thus be seen that the decrease in Ireland has nearly overcome the increase in the other parts of the kingdom.

Funds are to be raised in Cleveland, Ohio for the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of the persons killed by the burning of steamer Griffith, on Lake Erie, a few months ago.

☞ Rev John Marsh of New York, Secretary of the American Temperance Union, will lecture at the City Hall on the subject of Temperance on Sunday evening.

☞ The haymakers have been favored with a couple of bright days for their business and have the promise of more.

New York, July 27

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

The city of Bangor, always delightful for its beautiful and picturesque appearance, for its intelligence and the matchless beauty of its females, always presented a thousand charms for me, and I shall always recollect with pride and pleasure, the happy days I passed within its limits some fifteen years ago when I was younger than I am now, and your citizens were deeply absorbed in the land speculations. I think that I found Bangor, the time referred to, the most interesting place in the whole world.

To add to its incidental, and tempting entertainment, the grand Menagerie and Zoological Institute of Raymond & Co, and Herr Driesbach, will visit it on Thursday, August 7th, and remain until the night of the 8th. I believe you will find it one of the most desirable exhibitions ever presented to the public, and every way worthy of the liberal and excellent patronage that will be extended to it.

Among its animals, will be found two elephants, twelve lions, and Rhinoceros. The latter, is the only one now to be found in Europe or America. The elephants, are very gentle generally, and the larger and older one, Columbus is known to be upwards of one hundred and fifty years old and weighs eleven thousand pounds. His age, is correctly ascertained. Mr Raymond, his owner, who purchased him in London, several years ago, has a certificate, duly authenticated, by the late Marquis of Hastings, who, in the year 1716, purchased him in Calcutta and who says

"The elephant now in the tower, and familiarly called Tippoo Saib, I purchased of a Mahomettan chief and had him with me throughout my tour of in the East. He was docile, kind and exceedingly sagacious and, on more than one occasion he was the savior of my life. It is my desire that he remains in the tower as long as he lives, but should he be sold I hope that whoever purchases him will treat him as kindly as I have."

Mr Raymond, after he purchased Tippoo Saib, changed his name to Columbus, from a belief that such a name would be more acceptable to his countrymen.

Columbus, though a very good fellow, does not like to have pins stuck in his nose, and I hope that the little boys, as well as those of a larger growth in Bangor, will be careful not to annoy him.

When in Connecticut a few weeks ago a boy, who had the bad taste to stick a large darning needle in Columbus's trunk, was struck by the offended animal and very badly injured.

The combined Menagerie and Institute contains in all, upwards of one hundred animals of all kinds—presenting in the whole, the most extensive academy in natural history ever offered to a discriminating public. To give you an idea of the extent of this establishment, it is only necessary to state that it constantly employs 100 men and 150 horses. It encamps under its own tent, which embraces upwards of 10,000 square yards of canvass. A full band of music attends it. The famous naturalist, Herr Driesback, is at all times in attendance, and goes through his wonderful performances in the dens of the lions and other ferocious animals. Mons Hilderalgo also goes through a variety of astonishing feats.

The establishment will visit Oldtown on Saturday the 9th. Corinth on Monday the 11th, and Dover on Tuesday the 12 of August.

Yours &c, J. S. of A.

Portland, Aug 1, 1851.

A large quantity of liquors were seized by the Mayor, Marshal and Deputies this forenoon from the steamboat store house and Atlantic wharf, just landed. A considerable portion of them were destined to various points on the Atlantic and St. Lawrence railroad. The seizure has created considerable excitement.—Tel. to Mercury.

The Liquor Law in Augusta.—The Gospel Banner says—'Thus far, no prosecutions for violating the law, and no seizure under it have taken place in this city. It is hoped that the suspension recommended by the Mayor of sixty days, will afford dealers ample opportunity to dispose of their liquors lawfully, without incurring serious loss. The period expires on the first of August, at which time we are assured a vigorous system of measures, now in train, will be put into operation for the complete and thorough suppression of the ramifications."

Death by Lightning at Mt Vernon. On Saturday afternoon last, Jos S Atkins an old and highly respectable citizen of Mt. Vernon was instantly killed by a stroke of lightning while mowing in his field. His son a lad of fourteen, was rendered insensible for a considerable time, but recovered sufficiently to enable him to get to the house and alarm the family. He states that his father was engaged in sharpening his scythe, at the time of the fatal stroke. The bolt must have been one of more than ordinary severity, as Mr. Atkins' hat and clothes were much burned and torn, his scythe snath shivered to pieces and the ground perforated under his feet, but with the exception of a slight burn upon his temples, there were no marks upon his person. Mr A Mace who left Lowell for California, owing about $2000, has returned home, and on the 30th of June met his creditors at the Marlboro' Hotel in Boston, and paid them their dues with interest, in pure gold coin, after which he invited them to sit down with him to a dinner. [Transcript

☞ Many of our citizens complain at the rough and unfeeling manner in which Mr. Young whose duty in connection with the state prison is to remove convicts from different jails to it performed this duty in the case of John J Jewell, who was taken away on Wednesday. It was necessary, as a proper caution no doubt, to put irons on the legs of Mr Jewell, but that is no reason why Mr. Y. should out knife and cut off his boots in so brusque a manner. Perhaps John J had no particular occasion for the boots but his father had as we can testify.—Belfast Journal.

The Fourth of July was celebrated with much enthusiasm at the residence of B Leverett Smith, Esq, the American Consul at Turks Island, many of the public officers of the Island being present and participating in the proceedings.

An Iowa paper says a certain village there was recently visited by a Bloomer freshet. On being questioned as to what he meant, the editor says 'the water was knee high in the streets.'

MASSASOIT HOUSE,
ON THE BORDERS OF PUSHAW LAKE.
JOHN H. HASEY

HAS erected a new, large and convenient Hotel on the borders of PUSHAW LAKE, one of the most desirable watering places in the State of Maine, for the accommodation of travelers, parties of pleasure, invalids, and permanent boarders. The house has been built with special reference to this business, contains a large hall, and is thoroughly finished and amply furnished.

The distance from the City Hall of Bangor is seven miles over a good road. The house commands a splendid view of Pushaw Lake, with its beautiful green islands and its shores studded with the dark forest.

Safe and swift sail-boats for the accommodation of large parties, with experienced boatmen, are connected with the house, and are furnished with all necessary fishing apparatus for taking the White Perch, Pickerel, and other lake fish, which are abundant in the waters of the Lake.

Every attention will be paid to the wants, wishes, and comfort of visitors, and parties may be assured of receiving full accommodations at any hour.

There are very few pleasure resorts from the city of Bangor, and it is the determination of the Proprietor of the Massasoit House, that the excellence of his accommodations and the variety of his means of promoting the pleasures and diversions of his guests shall compensate for variety elsewhere.
JOHN H. HASEY.

The records of medical science abounding as they will ample testimonials to the value and efficacy of different medicinal compounds scarcely furnish a parallel when from a recollection of the utility of having witnessed to the great worth of Sands's Sarsaparilla The innumerable cases of a group or variety of diseases effected by that medicine in addition to the conclusive evidence of the fact and the experience of family connections as well as a desire to do justice to the public, induces the proprietors to give publicity to the following testimonials which are only a few of those received Many of these stand in the same relation to the afflicting and diseases calculating forth the invincible character of such a compound—long standing and long of thousands who were afflicted without hope of speedily, if ever, relief from anguish beyond the power of eloquence to convey have not only been relieved by its operation but restored to perfect health

The following testimonials are selected from one of those we are daily receiving, and for further confirmation, their address is referred to The Family Reading and Medical Almanac furnished gratuitously by all our agents

New York, July 27 1849
Messrs A B & D Sands—Gentlemen Words cannot express my feelings to you for my restoration to health Until my wife is restored to perfect health by the use of your invaluable Sarsaparilla—I would feel unwilling to withhold from the public the wonderful cure it has effected in my case Certain and decisive trial of the whole surface of the body for the last two years from the humor the last of sores and body were covered with scales I became so emaciated as to weigh only 98 pounds and was confined to my bed—was unable to walk or stand Consumption had fastened its fangs upon me and I was pronounced a confirmed victim to that fatal disease Consumption Then I was persuaded by thousands of persons who were cured by it to use Sands's Sarsaparilla—who had literally dried up my running sores—I use in the Prospect, Sold and Broadway Dimculty of Breathing—I couldn't hypocrisy—If the Peruvian Syrup was Nectar—and wasting away of the Flesh and Blood I began having such complete a change in my condition after It was said they could not live a week longer This kind friend has cured some who were in my opinion as far gone as I was, but by the use of this remedy they now live, and enjoy good health

This Balsam a purely vegetable compound It is pleasant to the taste and never does injury in any degree of disease or under any circumstances It effects wonderful and almost miraculous cures by Purifying, stirring, toning and invigorating the whole system—by exhausting the morbific and productive humors of the system—a healing Cough—soothing the Nerves—and all of a full and free list of Expectorations It cures the following diseases viz

NB—Fifteen years of the most severe suffering from Mr B McCollom of Mottaville Bowen & McNamee's Landing N Y

City and County of New York ss—Peter N Voorhis being duly sworn doth depose and say that the foregoing statement is correct in every particular to the best of his own knowledge and belief—Sworn and subscribed this 9th day of July 1849 before me, C S WOODRUFF Mayor

Peter N Mase, Ag, May 1849
Messrs A B & D Sands—Gentlemen I was attacked with Rheumatism in the lower part of my back extending down to my feet and so severely was I confined that I could not stand or move myself I tried with different medicines received from physicians but found no relief which was known as a last resort I was persuaded to use Sands's Sarsaparilla I consented but expecting it would cure me only after using twelve bottles I owe this happy result to you I cut the pain left me I can walk with out any assistance and I am gaining in strength every day which I have no doubt will be entirely restored to the use of your Sarsaparilla I am glad you allow any gentleman to call at my residence may know what medicine to use to alleviate their sufferings and effect a cure
